Hi Todd,

On Freedom from War, I don't really have an update since we last spoke. I tried calling Boyd to see if he has his list of questions about the possible permit transfer for us to address in a formal letter to both of you. Once I hear from him, I'll send you and update and/or a letter.

I don't think I mentioned that the Seely's would like to have the seed available so they have the option of spreading it this fall/early winter, although it sounded like they were planning to seed in the spring. You can tell them that the delay there was my fault. Maybe you've heard from them already. I suggested that they could put in an order with a seed supplier for an appropriate seed mix (we've given them a list, I believe), and that you could pay directly for it. Once paid for, please send us a copy of the receipt. Thanks.

Peter

Let the sealey's know I would be fine with that. Just let me know. I will b happy to pay for a reasonable seed mix. I don't want to pay $500 for a seed mix that should be less than $100. I'm ready whenever they are.

Thanks Todd Wilhite

Hi Todd,

Thanks for the quick reply. I told Gayle that you were ready to buy seed, and you should be hearing from her soon. If possible, she will order form a local seed place and let you know.

Attached is the example seed mix that I sent her (I think I've sent it to you before). I reminded her that we asked you to purchase seed for 2 acres worth of ground (about 30 lbs for the attached seed mix). The Seelys may want to modify the mix somewhat, which is fine. I told them that our recommended seed mix fits the site, and that some other species they might want to plant might not grow as well. I told her to let me know if they want to plant anything significantly different, and that we would want to see what they seeded. Let me know if you have any questions about their mix before you pay for it.

I told Gayle that they need to seed the mining disturbance areas of the site at an appropriate time of year on roughened soils with an acceptable seed mix in order for us to recognize their planting as valid.

I told her to keep a copy of the seed tags for the seed that they order, and to send it to us as well. I told her to keep the seed in a cool or cold area until they seed it, and recommend seeding in late fall or early spring on freshly-roughened soils. I told her that the Division will need to inspect the site soon after seeding.

Let me know if you have questions.

Peter
